

DRAG RIVER TODAY IN SEARCH FOR W. ELLSWORTH SHAFER

Belief That He Suicided By Drowning Is Strengthened.

Fishermen are today dragging Rock river west of the city limits in an effort to locate the body of W. Ellsworth Shafer, who is now believed, ended his life by drowning some time late Monday night. Late last evening the police received word that the man had been seen near the west city limits late Monday night and that his strange actions attracted the attention of people residing in that vicinity.

Early this morning a searching party was formed and corn fields were thoroughly inspected with a hope of finding the body, but without result. However, tracks were found in the fields and near the river which were believed to have been made by the missing man.

The police learned that a man answering Shafer's description, without hat or coat, was seen Monday night after 10 o'clock on West First street, wandering about aimlessly and appeared to be staggering. It was also reported that he was observed coming from the river bank, his trousers clinging to his body which would indicate that he had been in the river.

Son Directs Search.

About 10 o'clock Chief VanBibber went to the corn fields at the end of West Third street, taking grappling hooks which were turned over to fishermen and clambers for the purpose of dragging the river. The corn fields near the river were searched again but no trace of the man could be found. Roy Shafer of Granite City, Ill., arrived in Dixon last evening and is heading the searching party in the hunt for the missing parent.

After a thorough search of the corn fields the attention of the party was turned to the river bank north of the old Howle farm, where two years ago this month, A. R. Parker suicided by shooting himself through the head on the banks of the river. Sheriff Frank Schoenholz was notified and is assisting in the search for the body.

The fact that Shafer disappeared from home Monday night and to date has not been reported as having stopped at any place for something to eat, leads to the belief that he has taken his life. He took nothing with him when he left the house, removing his pipe and smoking tobacco from his clothing before starting.

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 7.—American Federation of Labor chiefs led by President Samuel Gompers, today prepared to draft a plan of attack upon Attorney General Daugherty's injunction against the railroad shop craft strikers. Following a series of secret conferences, which lasted until late last night, it was unofficially announced at labor headquarters in the Ambassador Hotel, that it had been almost definitely decided to attempt through the courts, to have the Daugherty act vacated. No fixed plan for a legal campaign has evolved so far, it was said by the labor leaders. They expect, however, to have such a plan in shape to be submitted to the executive council of the American Federation of Labor when it convenes in formal session Saturday.

UNARMED MEMBERS OF HERRIN MOB NOT TO BE INDICTED BY JURY

Their Evidence Welcomed By Prosecutors in Mine Massacre.

Marion, Ill., Sept. 7.—(By the Associated Press)—Thomas Marshall, of Chicago, special indictment writer for the Chicago grand juries, arrived this morning and immediately started work with the special grand jury investigating the Herrin massacre.

The special grand jury investigating the massacre will not return indictments against those members of the mob who were not armed and who did not incite the killing of nineteen employees of the Lester strip mine, June 22, Assistant Attorney General Middlekauff announced today. The jury is welcoming the testimony of these men, it was added.

A number of these persons are understood to have given the investigators valuable testimony and are expected to repeat the testimony at the trials. Every precaution, however, is being taken to prevent actual participants in the massacre from appearing before the grand jury. A number of men have attempted to get before the jury on pretenses that they have valuable testimony to impart, but questioning by prosecutors has revealed that the only subject these men had was to obtain immunity from indictment by their appearance before the inquirers.

Despite the intensely hot weather, the jurors continue to work eight hours a day. One was overcome by heat yesterday.

More Indictments Ready.
Witnesses are being heard at the rate of twenty a day. It is known the jury is ready to return a number of indictments, but this action is delayed, it was explained, on account of the difficulty of getting information as to the precise cause of death.

Conflicting testimony along this line was given yesterday by the Coroner and several undertakers, it was said.

Correction of a conflict in descriptions of the unidentified victims buried in Potter's field, and of a discrepancy in the number of the victims was attempted in today's session of the grand jury. While the records of the undertakers who prepared the bodies of the victims for burial indicate that nineteen non-union men and three union men met death during the two days, the Coroner's record indicates the number to be 23, showing one more non-union miner.

Amboy Man Fined Heavily Last Eve

Jack Hayes of Amboy was arrested yesterday afternoon by Officer Harry Jones for being intoxicated and transporting liquor on a public highway. Hayes was taken to the police station, where he was allowed to sober up and last evening was arraigned before Justice Martin Gannon, who assessed a fine of $100 and costs which was paid.

Hayes claimed that he had come to Dixon to get some hooch, which he intended to put in some home-made wine for the purpose of increasing the "kick" in it. He indulged too freely in the "kick" producer and did not get back to Amboy until after he had paid his fine and costs.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Winteret, Iowa, Sept. 7.—Farmers of America can be relied upon to turn back the menace of bolshevism which is threatening the entire world, former Governor Frank O. Lowden of Illinois, declared in a speech here today before a gathering of Madison county residents.

"Just as it was the farmers in their fields and in their feed lots who helped save civilization from military despotism, so it will be the farmers who will save America in this battle with anarchism with which America and all the world is threatened," said Mr. Lowden.

Mr. Lowden reviewed the growth of the American Farm Bureau Federation and praised its achievements. He endorsed the farmers co-operative societies, which he declared would solve the marketing problems of agriculture.

RESCUE WORK TO REQUIRE SEVERAL DAYS TO FINISH

Considerable Rock to Be Cut Through to Reach Miners.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Jackson, Cal., Sept. 7.—The eleventh day of ceaseless effort to bere an underground channel to reach the forty-six entombed men in the Argonaut mine, found rescue crews this morning still far from their goal, with indications that the task must go on for at least several days.

Crews battering and drilling through earth and rock from 3600 foot and 3900 foot levels of the Kennedy mine which adjoins the burning Argonaut, progressed between twenty and thirty feet last night, it was estimated unofficially early today. Experts said "several days" would be required to break through the remaining wall of earth, rock, twisted iron and huge timbers.

Kennedy crews burrowing through the 3900 foot level have cleared approximately 650 feet and still must tunnel 145 more feet through a cavity in tunnel to attain a 142-foot wall of solid rock, which must be penetrated to admit of entrance on the 4600 level of the Argonaut.

Argonaut rescue workers have approximately 300 feet caved-in tunnel to clear in the 3600 level a Kennedy level in order to reach a point twenty-nine one-half feet from the Argonaut 4200 level where the fellow Argonaut employees are thought to be held prisoners. This twenty-nine one-half feet is solid rock and engineers estimate that it can be drilled in 36 hours after being reached.

Movies Call

Mr. Jewell was variously reported to have been in several eastern cities secretly conferring on plans for a settlement of the strike. It became known that he as well as other leaders of the shop men's unions had been in Baltimore.

Officials of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad denied knowledge of a conference with Jewell or his associates.

With the issuance of the call for the policy committee meeting Mr. Jewell was reported to be en route to Chicago. The call declared, the meeting was "very important."

The meeting of shop craft leaders was called for the same day on which Judge Wilkerson set for hearing the government's application to make the Daugherty injunction permanent.

After Incendiary Speakers.
Attorney General Daugherty announced at Washington that the government would "consider in due time what proceedings would be taken against the few misguided labor leaders who have made incendiary speeches in connection with the industrial situation." He said the government had been "somewhat hampered" by the difficulty process servers had experienced in locating leading officials of the shop crafts organization. Union leaders denied that Jewell and his associates had been purposely avoiding the service of writs.

Meanwhile labor leaders in the east joined in demands for the impeachment of Attorney General Daugherty.

College Rivalry Extended to Golf Tournament in East

By Associated Press Leased Wire.

Brookline, Mass., Sept. 7.—The rivalry of the “big three” of the east in college athletics was prominent in the national amateur golf championship tournament today, for among the eight players left in the tournament as the third round was Jesse Sweetser of Yale, Rudy Knepper of Princeton and Bobby Jones, who is going to Harvard in the fall.

Sweetser's opponent was another Jesse Gullford of Boston, the champion.

Knepper, who defeated Francis Oumet delighted his home town, Sioux City, Iowa, yesterday, had a task no less difficult than Sweetser's. His opponent was Cyril Tolley, the formidable British star, the only representative of his country left in the tournament.

Jones played William F. McPhail of Boston.

Vanderbilt University was in the running with Harvard, Yale and Princeton, for one of its former football stars, Frank A. Godchaux, of New Orleans played Chick Evans of Chicago.

Illinois Miners in Convention, Discuss Recent Conferences

By Associated Press Leased Wire.

Peoria, Ill., Sept. 7.—With every miner's local in the state represented, Frank Farrington, state president, called to order the reconvened state convention this morning to lay before the miners the results of the two coal conferences held at Cleveland and at Chicago, settling the soft coal strikes. Miners attending totaled more than 550.

“This convention will undoubtedly result in clearing up misunderstandings which may have existed in some quarters,” Mr. Farrington said. “I expect all will be in accord with the actions of their official representatives at both conferences.”

The morning was spent in seating accredited delegates, the bulk of those seated being elected as delegates to the last convention held in this city last year.

State Vice President Harry Fishwick and Secretary-Treasurer Walter Nesbitt accompanied Farrington to the convention.

South Bend, Ind., Sept. 7.—There will be no separation in the Tiernan family—at least not until the courts have disposed of the charges filed against Harry Tiernan, local merchant, that he is the father of Mrs. Tiernan's son born last November—it was made known at the Tiernan home here today. John P. Tiernan, professor of law at the University of Notre Dame, and his wife, Augusta, apparently are happy in their devotion to their three children, including the baby.

Professor Tiernan, who has stated he will assume personal charge of the prosecution, announced today he would oppose any further efforts of the defense to postpone the preliminary hearing of the case, which has been set for Thursday, Sept. 11. Prosecuting Attorney Floyd Jellison is assisting the law professor and the two are busy sifting the evidence to be presented.

Mrs. Tiernan reiterated today that she would take the witness stand at the proper time and relate the entire story of her alleged relations with Mr. Poulin. Following the advice of her attorneys, Mr. Poulin is maintaining silence.

THINK HARD BATTLE IS BEING WAGED IN CORK NEIGHBORHOOD

Interruption of Communication Leads to That Belief.

London, Sept. 7.—(By the Associated Press.)—Interruption of telegraphic communication between London and Cork and reported interruption between Dublin and Cork has led to the belief by some of the London newspapers today that events of great moment are happening in the Cork region, especially since fighting was reported there during the night.

Coupled with this was the report that came through last night of the capture of Eamon De Valera and Eirkeine Childers by Irish national forces. This report, however, has not been confirmed.

Dublin, Sept. 7.—(By the Associated Press.)—Knowledge regarding the rumored arrest of De Valera or the wounding of Eirkeine Childers was denied today by the publicity department of the Irish government here.

Dublin, Sept. 7.—The Daily Eireann cabinet last night, discussed the filling of offices, made vacant by the deaths of Arthur Griffith and Michael Collins and the resignation of George Gavan Duffy. It is understood decisions were reached which will be made public at Saturday's meeting of the Dail.

The political correspondent of the Freeman's Journal says the meeting on Saturday will constitute an “important step toward consolidating the freedom won under the Anglo-Irish treaty.”

It is expected that a vote will be taken which will in effect will be a vote of confidence of the government and a further ratification of the treaty.

Men's Sport Suits for Fall are Sportier Than Ever

Chicago.—What the college fellow wears generally has a marked influence on young men's styles, as styles that meet favor in the universities are quickly adopted by young men the country over. The college man is now getting his things together for the coming school year and his demands are for sport suits with all the extra auxiliaries possible, so if you wish to be in the swim and right up-to-date this fall you must have at least one sport suit in your wardrobe. And if this suit is the proper thing, it must not only show straps, plaits and a belt all around but must also display four buttons down the front. Of course one, two and three button sport styles are also in favor but four buttons have the edge on all of them for popularity.

The picture of these two chaps shown here gives a comprehensive idea of what has happened.

COME, CHOOSE YOUR ROAD AND AWAY—

(By Alfred Noyes.)
Over the sweet-smelling mountain-passes
The clouds lie brightly curled;
The wild flowers cling to the crags and swing
With cataract-dews impearled:
And the way, the way that you choose
This day
Is the way to the end of the world.

It rolls from the golden long ago
To the land that we never shall find;
And it's uphill here, and it's downhill there,
For the road is wise and kind,
And all rough places and cheerless faces
Will soon be left behind.

Come, choose your road and away,
away,
We'll follow the Gipsy sun;
For it's soon, too soon to the end of the day,
And the road is well begun;
And the road rolls on through the heart of the May,
And there's never a May but one.

There's a fir-wood here, and a dogrose there,
And a note of the mating dove;
And a glimpse, maybe, of the warm blue sea,
And the warm white clouds above;

Come out—a bundle and stick is all
You'll need to carry along.
If your heart can carry a kindly word,
And your lips can carry a song.

ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTY ATTENDED PICNIC—

Rochelle, Ill., Sept. 6.—One hundred and fifty women responded to the invitation of Mrs. Medill McCormick and attended the "Get-Together Republican Women's Picnic," held at Rock River Farm Tuesday, Sept. 5. Women from the towns and cities of the six counties of the Thirtieth Congressional district were present, including Ogle, Lee, Whiteside, Stevenson, Jo Davis and Carroll.

As the guests arrived a social time and reception was enjoyed. Picnic luncheon was served in the woods of the McCormick estate on a bluff overlooking Rock River.

After dinner the counties with the exception of Carroll answered the roll call.

Mrs. Douglas Harvey, district chairman of Dixon, gave a few introductory remarks and introduced the hostess, Mrs. Medill McCormick, a member of the Republican National Executive committee and wife of Senator McCormick of Illinois. Mrs. McCormick spoke of the need of perseverance and organization in woman's activities citing the splendid organization built up when women fought as a unit for suffrage.

Miss Anne Forsythe, of Aurora, Secretary of the Illinois Women's organization, then spoke of the fall plan for the work, including a house to house canvass, the forming of a permanent organization and the choosing of county leaders.

Several county leaders gave reports of the work in their respective counties, and Mrs. McMahan, of Olney, outlined the work being carried on in the southern part of the state.

Krug celebrating the marriage service in the presence of a large gathering of interested friends and relatives. The church was beautifully decorated with palms and flowers.

The bride wore a beautiful gown of white tulle, with veil, and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. UNIQUE AND PLEASANT PARTY ENJOYED—

Such a delightful evening the members of the Westminster Guild of the Presbyterian church enjoyed at the hospitable home of Dr. and Mrs. S. W. Lehman last evening, where they were entertained at a Christmas party. Christmas party? Yes, indeed, a real honest to goodness Christmas party. The Lehman home was beautifully decorated in keeping with Christmas, evergreens, flowers, etc.

There were twenty-one present and the guests were seated at a Christmas banquet, the table being decorated with a pretty miniature tree, poinsettias, etc., making it most attractive and beautiful. The dinner was all that a Christmas dinner should be and due appreciation was shown by the guests.

The Christmas party, it should be explained was given in honor of Mrs. Herbert Greig and baby son, who with the father, are living in far off Africa, where the father is doing missionary work. Each guest at the party last evening took a gift for the baby or for Mrs. Greig. These gifts will be packed in a box and sent from the members of the Guild to Africa, and will reach there about Dec. 25th, and will be the Christmas message of good cheer and love to these workers in the good cause far from home. Mrs. F. L. Thomas and Mrs. George J. Schmidt were in charge of the evening and to them and to Mrs. S. W. Lehman is due the credit for the successful party.

After the dinner Christmas games were played and various amusing stunts had been provided and there was not a dull moment in the entire evening. At the close of the evening Christmas carols were sung and the memory of the happy hours will long remain with those who were present.

CHOOSING RECRUITS

Suppose an employer accepted, without question, every one who came to him asking for a job, regardless of the applicant's history, character, age, sex or industrial qualifications, making a place for all of them, whether many or few, and trying to operate his plant with them as best he could. It would be an interesting philanthropy, perhaps, but how long would his business last?

That is what the United States has always done until lately. As a great business institution, it has accepted all the immigrants who wanted to come—unless they were diseased or defective or criminal that they were plainly destined for the poorhouse or hospital or penitentiary—and he has made the best he could of them.

Sometimes he has not had enough serviceable recruits. Usually he has had too many. They have crowded into communities already too crowded, they have swamped his charitable institutions and overwhelmed his educational system and wrought havoc with his industrial machinery. At last Uncle Sam shows signs of coming to his senses and doing a little thinking and choosing instead of standing as an easy mark for all the world to impose upon.

Secretary of Labor Davis points out, as many others have done, that the present 3 per cent immigration restriction law, while tolerable as a temporary measure, should give way to a permanent law with a different basis. Along with restriction, he insists, there must be discrimination. Quality is more important than quantity. And to insure proper quality, immigrants must be handicapped by American inspectors before they start for this country instead of coming here indiscriminately or being sent here by foreign officials who pick them as good subjects to get rid of.

BEING RICH HONESTLY OR DISHONESTLY

The British premier, David Lloyd George, receives half a million dollars for his memoirs. The former kaiser of the late German empire is paid a small fortune for his state and personal papers. Millionaires acquire additional millions every year, or month, simply as Interest on capital. In the stock markets millions are made in speculation and fortunes are built up from commissions. Real estate bought for a pittance is sold after a lapse of years, for a financial competence. Patented articles are wealth-makers for inventors and manufacturers.

It is a popular belief that nobody can become opulent in a lifetime by honest means. Ever since the number of millionaires has been increasing the idea that quickly garnered fortunes are all wrongfully constructed has been emphasized, and, in fact, confirmed, by widespread repetition.

The prevailing opinion takes another form. There are many persons, and they, almost without exception, have no more money than just enough to exist from week to week, and say that it is impossible to earn wealth by work in one lifetime.

Is Mr. George's remuneration of half a million honest income? There is no phase of dishonesty to it. Is it the result of work? Mr. George writes the memoirs; and writing and thinking are work. The little premier worked from his boyhood to the present date to form the substance of the book's contents. And it can not be held that the salary which he received as a public servant was full compensation. Trials through which he passed could not be liquidated with money.

Many fortunes are made dishonestly. But as an acquirer honestly. It is possible, too, actually to earn a fortune in a lifetime by work. Business, the arts, letters, politics, athletics, education, and all things are on a large scale in these days. There are so many interesting ways in which to accumulate riches honestly that the really strange fact is that so many persons resort to dishonesty.

PARENTAL SOLICITUDE AND FILIAL DEVOTION

When you read in the daily press that the late Park Benjamin of New York City, well known as a patent lawyer and author, had deliberately excluded his three daughters and two sons from participation in his $500,000 estate, you had conflicting opinions and opposing emotions. You deferred your judgment as to whether his act was just, or whether, if it was just, it was paternal.

Mr. Benjamin bequeathed to each of his children one dollar. His estate he left to his widow, with the stipulation that it should go to an adopted daughter, Miss Anna Bolchi Benjamin, after Mrs. Benjamin's death. Miss Bolchi was the companion and governess of Mrs. Dorothy Caruso, one of the Benjamin daughters, and it is said that she was the cause of the estrangement between the family and the father. In the will Mr. Benjamin declared that the adopted daughter had shown him the filial respect and sympathy naturally due to a father.

The right or wrong of the misunderstanding in the Benjamin household can be decided only by an impartial friend who is familiar with all the circumstances. In all probability the will will be contested, or what is more likely, a compromise may be effected for a division of the estate.

The principles of family relationship which are involved so seriously in the Benjamin testament are live daily issues in the probate, criminal and corrective courts from one end of the land to another. A parent, in anger, casts a son or a daughter adrift in the world, or disinherits and denounces a child, or disinherits a whole flock of children, on an accusation of disgraceful, unfaithful or contemptuous behavior.

WRECKING PASSENGER TRAINS

It is a waste of words to assert that wrecking the Michigan Central train at Gary, Ind., was a most heinous crime. On the other hand, it is almost impossible to believe that men of this age are so base and so ignorant as to plot to derail trains carrying hundreds of passengers, blow up sleeping quarters of workmen and destroy property on a large scale. But confessions have been made by arrested radicals that they did all these dastardly deeds.

What was the line of thought that these men had? They were fighting the railroads, or, to express it in their own terms, they were fighting capital. As they are communists, they probably meant also to fight the government. What they really did was to kill their fellow-workers and to conspire to kill thousands of people, including women and children.

And what would they gain, what could they gain, through their crimes? At last they could do nothing more than put radical thoughts into abominable misdeeds.

Here is another proof that the sane majority in labor, the reasonable and conservative patriotic majority, must take active part in unionism's affairs and throw out the disturbers, and pick the best leaders available. It is a very small, but pernicious minority that has caused labor's most serious troubles.

ROCKET UPSETS TWINS IN MID-AIR

Before you could say "boo" it had knocked them both head over heels.

Of course Nancy and Nick wished themselves into their true forms again just as soon as they got the Fairy Queen's wand.

Flap-Doodle, the purple fairy who had stolen it, was so furious he followed them as fast as his ears would carry him.

"I'll get that wand back again or I'm an Indian," he raged, shaking his fist at the disappearing Twins, now getting quite near to the earth.

"Ha, ha!" laughed Nick. "No, you'll not, Mr. Flap-Doodle."

Nancy laughed, too!

Now, my dears, I'm sorry to tell you when folks get careless something usually happens. And that's exactly what happened to the Twins.

They didn't watch where they were going and they had an accident—or a sort of one.

A sky rocket went—whizz! right toward the place where Nancy and Nick were sailing down through the sky.

And before you could say "Boo," it had knocked them both head over heels.

Nancy lost her hold of the Fairy Queen's wand and away it went.

"Oh!" she cried. "It's gone! The wand's gone!"

"There it is!" declared Nick, pointing to the earth. "I just saw a stick fall. That must be it."

Their Green Shoes took them to the place at once, with Flap-Doodle close at their heels.

But there were two sticks. The Twins grabbed one and Flap-Doodle grabbed one.

Who, my dears, do you suppose got the Magic Wand?

GOLD

A young German working in a cigar factory at Breslau was badly injured several years ago. Surgeons removed his fractured ribs and replaced them with ribs of gold and platinum.

Now the young man says he lives in a perpetual nightmare, afraid holdups will operate on him and take his ribs. We don't know the chances of that in Germany, but over here it would be nearly a certainty.

LEARN A WORD EVERY DAY

TODAY'S word is—GARRULITY. It's pronounced /-ga-roo-li-ti/ with accent on the second syllable.

It means—talkativeness, especially concerning trifles.

It comes from—Latin "garrere," to chatter.

It's used like this—"Repeated attempts have been made, both through outside criticism and by effort on the part of certain of its own members, to check the garrulity of the United States Senate, but with little or no success thus far."

"Why?"

"Why wouldn't I have him there? He couldn't tell you, I wouldn't. I thought I'd never have to; but you've forced me. This fellow you call Louella."

"You believe that your father—so Bennett's been telling me—got in touch with this fellow called Louella after your father died? That started your interest in him?"

"Yes."

"Why do you suppose your father did that? Why did he pick him, I mean?"

Common Sense Ways to Keep Well.

FRESH AIR BY DR. R. H. BISHOP

One physician's prescription for good health is "to get in a draught and stay in it."

This sounds revolutionary, for we often hear of "catching cold" in a draught. Really, however, it isn't the draught that brings on the cold, but overheating in a stuffy, unventilated room before or after exposure to it.

Air is the first necessity of life, yet many people worry about every little draught and extra current of air. Instead of worrying, the right thing is to take advantage of the draught, breathe deeply several times and observe how much better you feel.

So alarming was the consequence of this that Bennet could not at once realize it was simply a consequence. He jumped up in fright, imagining that his grandfather suddenly had suffered from a cramp or other physical seizure.

"Why, grandfather, you want some whisky? I'll get you—"

Lucas controlled himself and stood up. "Indigestion," he mumbled. "Cavlar here tonight. Go on; what else happened?"

Then Bennet informed him that nothing else transpired at the service, he thought for a while that his grandson was concealing something; but at last he satisfied himself that he knew all; and he went to his room.

For Lucas never did anything at all at Galilee except meet James Quinlan there and there direct J. Q. to the deed that was to be done.

It was marvelous how, throughout the forty-six years which had passed since that meeting, Lucas had carried consciousness of his own guilt always associated with the place of meeting, "Galilee." He had not known that Quinlan had done so too. He had supposed that Quinlan had lived out his life with a different association. And yet this was natural enough.

"Natural enough," Lucas muttered to himself. "Galilee!"

But J. Q. was dead; Kincheo and put his body in the lake. Who, then, knew about Galilee and could associate it with a flaming torch? No one else in all the world but Lucas himself! Yet Ethel and that Lou-trelle and Bennet had found out.

By God, if they drew "Galilee" and the torch from him, what else could they draw? If they obtained it from the dead, how much more would the dead tell?

That was a staggerer for Lucas who had acted upon the simple and effective formula that dead men tell no tales. "Galilee and a flaming torch!" Lucas winced and swung back to his window. So old J. Q. though dead, had told? How could Lucas shut up a ghost?

An idea, half formed, seized him; and he stood stark. It progressed in his mind; and he laughed. In a reaction, it revolted himself; he discarded it; but it came back to him, more convincingly, more complete, and it promised him triumph.

It was after nine the next morning before Ethel awoke; and then it was so delightful to lie in bed, dreaming over the hours of the evening, that she made no stir, and it was ten when a maid knocked at her door. She answered joyously. "Some one for me?"

"Yes, Miss Carew. Mr. Lucas Cullen, your grandfather."

Ethel hastened down and found her grandfather, with his overcoat on and holding his hat in his gloved hand, standing in the center of the drawing room and gazing critically about.

"You little fool!" he accused her commiseratingly. "Can't you feel even when your own flesh and blood tries to protect you?"

"From what, grandfather?"

"Had it ever occurred to you that the reason your father never came to my house was that he couldn't?"

"No," Ethel said.

"Think over it a minute."

"Why?"

"Why wouldn't I have him there? He couldn't tell you, I wouldn't. I thought I'd never have to; but you've forced me. This fellow you call Louella."

Arthur Griffith Was Not Poisoned Doctor Declared This Morn

By Associated Press Leased Wire
London, Sept. 7.—Rumors in Dublin that a doctor and two nurses had been arrested on suspicion in connection with the death of Arthur Griffith, are devoid of foundation, according to the Exchange Telegraph correspondent in the Irish capital. He adds that the story has been circulated in Dublin for the last week.

A Dublin dispatch to the Associated Press Sept. 1, said the rumors that Mr. Griffith was poisoned, which were prevalent at the time of his funeral, again were being circulated. The physicians who attended the dead president, however, stated positively that he died from natural causes, probably from heart disease. One of the doctors admitted there was some talk of exhuming the body for an autopsy.

Pauline Frederick Makes Hit in "The Guilty One," at Chi.

Chicago is flocking to see and hear Pauline Frederick in "The Guilty One," at the Woods Theatre, Chicago. After an absence of seven years from the legitimate stage, during which time she attained an enviable reputation as one of the foremost stars of the screen, Miss Frederick returned in the stellar role of a new, three-act drama by Michael Morton, entitled "The Guilty One," and virtually swept Chicago theatre-goers off their feet. On the opening night she received twenty-four curtain calls and this number has greeted her at the end of each two every performance since.

A. H. Woods, the New York producer had the foresight to bring Miss Frederick out of the films and back on the speaking stage and her overwhelming success attests to this manager's shrewdness. To his credit it must be said that he provided Miss Frederick with an exceptionally fine play and a flawless cast of supporting players. "The Guilty One" is a drama which rivets the attention at the rise of the curtain and holds it unflinchingly through its tense three acts. Although Miss Frederick carries off first honors as the star, there are plenty of plaudits from those sterling actors Charles Waldron, Charles Dalton and Ian Keith, who contribute much to the satisfying entertainment.

Popular matinees are given Wednesdays especially for the benefit of out-of-town patrons and the final curtain falls early enough to enable everyone to catch suburban trains before eleven o'clock.

Suicide Requested • No Flowers for Him

Centerville, Iowa, Sept. 6.—Before Charles Connel, formerly of Utica, Ill., decided to take his life by poisoning and "moonshine," he prepared a note giving the reasons for his act and his last wishes including the request that his $300 insurance, taken out in LaSalle, Ill., be used to "put me in a hole." His body found lying across the foot of his bed in a hotel here.

"I wish no quack doctor to try to bring me back again or I'll lay for him," the note read. He requested there be no flowers at his funeral as "I won't see them."

"What is the use of living to end life in old age?" he asked in the note, continuing "you've got to die anyway. What's beyond, we don't know. Nobody returns to tell it."

The note closed remarking: "Go and live your jolly old life and I hope you live to be 180 and become a nuisance to the country if you want to be."

ROCHELLE CONCERN TO HAVE EXHIBIT AT BRAZIL EXPOSITION

George Whitcomb Co. to Show Gasoline Locomotive There.

ROCHELLE.—The George D. Whitcomb Co. will exhibit a 6-ton 24-inch gauge gasoline locomotive with starting and lighting outfit at the Brazilian Centennial Exposition, Rio de Janeiro, Sept. 7, 1922, to March 31, 1923.

The Whitcomb exhibit is exhibited in connection with the following American concerns: Kohring Company, of Milwaukee; Electric Wheel Co. of Quincy, Ill.; Russell Grader Manufacturing Co. of G. H. Williams Co. of Erie, Pa., and American Hoist & Derrick Co.

Sergio Villa Valencia will demonstrate the machinery. The work on the exposition buildings was slowed up a little by the recent political disturbances, but recent advice indicates that the exposition will be opened on the 20th of September in stead of on the 7th.

Under the caption: "Bob, The Story of An American Boy," Stella Burke May has written an interesting story of the military life of Lieutenant Walter J. Tigan, a son of Mrs. Katherine Tigan and a brother of Eugene E. Tigan of Rochelle. The story occupies fourteen pages of the September McClure's Magazine, and it is illustrated with many half-tones of the Rochelle hero. The front piece of the magazine presents a full page photo of the lad who turned a sickening defeat into a bright and sacred victory.

The article carries the history of "Bob" from the time of his entrance at Annapolis up to his death, special emphasis being laid on his letters to his mother while absent from home.

Most of the documents are letters chosen from his faithful correspondence to his mother, written from the time he was appointed to the United States Military Academy to the time he was dishonorably discharged for failing under circumstances that might have fostered a lasting bitterness in his heart—though degraded in reality, he refused to be embittered, and beginning again when his citizenship had been restored to enable him to enlist for the great war.

"Between the two wars he was with her."

"He was 19 when appointed a midshipman, and he was 27 when he died in France of many wounds. He died loaded with military honors, both French and American, but those crosses and stars and medals honor his memory less thrillingly than one little paper badly reciting his military history, for it is spread on the records of our naval academy, and there it is placed to cover up his 'dishonorable dismissal.'"

"And there is nothing else like that in those volumes; no such thing was ever done before."

The writer is the wife of Earl C. May, a brother of Miss Louisa S. May, who was born and grew to manhood in this city. Mr. and Mrs. May are now living in New York City.

The Peoples Loan & Trust Co. directors met Tuesday evening to consider building plans and the purchase of a vault door.

Attorney and Mrs. John B. Hayes welcomed a daughter, Joanne, at summer home on Rock River near Byron, Thursday.

A. A. Phelps & Son started moving into their new Lincoln Highway store Tuesday. The new store building with its modern conveniences will make a splendid location. The Peoples Loan & Trust Co. bank, who recently purchased the building vacated by A. A. Phelps & Son, expect to utilize the building in their $35,000 remodeling plan, and work will be started at once.

Roderick Hathaway, who has been attending the summer school of the University of Chicago School of Law, is enjoying a month's vacation between terms.

The Rochelle Woman's Club banked $219 Saturday night, the proceeds of their Tag Day for the city park.

BOY BANDITS CAUGHT.

Davenport, Iowa, Sept. 6.—Five youths armed with a noisy revolver, a tiny flash light and dependent upon an old automobile with which to make their getaway, were taken into custody last night, and today by a Sheriff William Brechner and deputies on charges of highway robbery after holding up Sidney Post, of Rock Island and a woman companion on the Harrison street road, one mile north of the city limits.

"We are not honest-to-goodness highwaymen," one of the boys told the sheriff last night, "we were just out for a good time and a little fun. Honest, we didn't mean any harm."

Mrs. Keach Tells How She Got to Know Rat-Snap.

"Have always feared rats. I lately noticed many on my farm. A neighbor said he just got rid of droves with RAT-SNAP. This started me thinking. Tried RAT-SNAP myself. It killed 17 and scared the rest away. RAT-SNAP comes in three sizes, 35c, 50c, $1.25. Sold and guaranteed by Public Drug & Book Co., and E. N. Howell Hardware Co.—Adv.

First Quadrangular Case is Presented

South Bend, Ind., Sept. 6.—Solution of the quadrangle created when Mrs. Augusta Tiernan, wife of Professor John P. Tiernan, law instructor at the University of Notre Dame, filed an affidavit naming Harry Poulin, campus clothing merchant, as the father of her nine-months-old son, today awaited court action which has been set for Thursday, Sept. 14. Professor Tiernan, considered by his associates as a brilliant law student, describes the action as the "first quadrangle case ever presented for the decision of a court and the judgment of society."

Poulin will be given a hearing in the Justice of the Peace court in which Mrs. Tiernan filed her affidavit. Professor Tiernan has announced that he will conduct the prosecution.

Head of Machinists' Union Disappeared

Washington, Sept. 6.—At the moment when rumors of impending partial settlement of the rail strike were in wide, though controverted circulation today, W. H. Johnston, president of the International Association of Machinists, one of the largest of several railroad unions now on strike, took occasion to disappear completely.

Mr. Johnston's associates and his family professed ignorance of his whereabouts, but were unanimous in their conviction that he was on official and important duty. At machinists headquarters here, inquiries brought the reply that he was in "Pittsburgh, Baltimore or New York."

ADVANCE SHOWING
The NEW FALL SUITS BY PRINTZ
featured in VOGUE and HARPER'S
BAZAR this month.

This week—a style event of great interest! The new autumn suits by Printz, featured in this month's Vogue and Harper's Bazar, are here in a specially arranged display.

There are strictly styled tailleurs of long, slender lines; smart youthful styles for sports and every-occasion wear. The most favored suit materials are Trico Cord, Tricotiné and smart mixture fabrics.

In these models Printz has embodied all the best and most beautiful of Parisian style conceits. Coupled with their outstanding style is the well known Printz standard of value, expressed in every detail of design, fabric and tailoring. We believe you will find no greater values than those.

Another advantage characteristic of Printz models is the Printz technique of "Personalized Style." Every model is designed to give certain normal figures the lines most becoming to them. You will appreciate what this means, especially in a suit, where lines count for so much.

We are prepared to be of definite service to you in your selection of the right model for your figure type.

We are also showing many new coats, capes and dresses by Printz. You will, in fact, find us ready to supply your every autumn need—not only with Printz models but with carefully chosen garments from other houses and all the smart accessories of dress.

You will be impressed with the unusual values.

Burning Feet, Corns and Callouses Halt Mrs. Doyer

On long hike from Boston to Los Angeles

Reaches New York Where Foot Troubles Threaten to End Strenuous Journey. Tells How She Outwitted
Pains From Sore, Burning Feet, Corns and Bunions with

GYPSY FOOT RELIEF

A Wonderful Secret
From the Desert

After shaking hands with Governor Cox, of Massachusetts and Mayor Curley, of Boston, Mrs. Bella Doyer and her fifteen-year-old son started their long hike from Boston to Los Angeles, California, with nothing but jack-knives in their pockets and walking sticks for protection on their strenuous journey. Dressed in khaki uniforms, they reached New York City in good time, where Mrs. Doyer's burning feet, corns and the appearance of a red-sore bunion threatened to halt her intended record-making expedition. But hearing of the wonders performed by Gypsy Foot Relief, Mrs. Doyer obtained a box and applied it to the test, for here was an aggravated condition of foot troubles calling for immediate relief, and she must make good her slogan of "reach-Los Angeles-by-foot-or-die!" How Mrs. Doyer succeeded is best told in her own words in an interview, just before leaving New York to continue her 3,300 mile foot-trip. She said:—

"When we reached New York City, in good time, my feet were burning, sore and aching, callouses had formed and two corns and a sore bunion made their appearance. I thought I would have to give up my 'reach California-on-foot-or-die' program. Hearing about the wonders of Gypsy Foot Relief, I obtained a box and applied it that afternoon and that night, and the next morning, and to my surprise, my feet felt as if they had new life; the burning and aches had ceased, the soreness had gone and the pains from corns and bunions had disappeared as if by magic. I started on my long hike again and now that I have some Gypsy Foot Relief, I am sure I will reach Los Angeles without any more foot troubles or misery."

NOTE:—Gypsy Foot Relief, mentioned by Mrs. Doyer, is a secret from the desert. Applied in a minute, relief comes a few minutes later! The awful pains from burning, calloused feet, corns and bunions seem to disappear as if by magic! No bother to apply—no plasters—no powders—no soaking feet in medicated baths—no fuss! Simply apply it as directed, then put on your shoes and walk, run or dance as long as you wish, or work and stay on your feet as long as you like! So remarkable are the reports of Gypsy Foot Relief from different parts of the country, that the makers guarantee successful results in every case—or you get back the little it costs! It is sold in this city by all good druggists, including Rowland Bros., Thomas Sullivan, Public Drug and Book Co.

Some Strikers Wish to Return to Work

Murphysboro, Ill., Sept. 6.—By the Associated Press.—Following the posting of a notice in the Mobile & Ohio local shops that all striking shop men who failed to return to work today would lose their seniority rights, striking shop men held a meeting and asked the road to extend the time. The road thereupon extended the time until Sept. 12. A number of the strikers expressed a desire to return to work. The Murphysboro Trades Council at a meeting last night adopted a resolution urging the American Federation of Labor to call a general strike, in sympathy with the striking shop men.

WORN OUT AFTER SHE COOKED A MEAL

Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Read the Result

Cincinnati, Ohio.—"I suffered for a year with nervous troubles and irregularities before I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My back pained all the time and I was unfit for housework. I was worn out if I cooked a meal, and was unable to do my washing. My girl friends and my sister told me if I would take your Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills I would be relieved. After taking the first bottle I felt better, and neglected it awhile, but found I could not do my work until I was stronger. So I took the Vegetable Compound again and now I am the mother of a 10 months old boy. He is fat and healthy and I am sure I could never have carried him if it had not been for your medicine. I recommend your medicine to all women although I am young to be advising some one older."
